Perhaps music lessons could be a good call? There must be a lot of talented musicians in the area. Also, the village hall where I used to live had quiz nights, and also days where you could take every day items that have broken, be it clothing, or electrics - then people who have some kind of skill would give their time to fix the items. It saved people money, was a good way for trades people to advertise themselves, and also great for sustainability.	Yes	Maybe

79	20 to 40	A few times a year	Pop Up Cafe, Pop Up Bar, Board game evenings, Outreach Post Office service	A community shop. Second hand book exchange. A games evening. An open house policy for passers by to use the facilities ie. Honesty box refreshments, access to toilets, local information leaflets/maps. Something similar is provided at Glendale.	The present hall is perfectly adequate at the moment. It has toilets, a good kitchen and newish roof and windows. It isn't used enough to warrant pulling down and replacing. At present only a handful of people turn up to the very few regular events that take place so why is a whole new hall needed? There has been multiple activities that haven't lasted ie the film nights, the pop up bar so we can't see why it would be any different with a new hall? What really needs addressing is the limited parking. Perhaps a small area of the land opposite could be used? This would then encourage more people to use the present hall. Hopefully at that point with more usage it would then be the sensible time to consider a new hall? At the moment most of the hall's activities are focussed on the older age group. Since the destruction of the children's playground more should be provided for the younger members of the community. Perhaps an indoor children's play area and more children's groups?	No	Maybe

The hall is perfectly adequate in its facilities and position, but the biggest let down is the lack of parking. There is plenty of space in the park opposite in which to provide more parking. If grants are available this is where they should be directed. There are enough local trades and skills, and machines to make it a community affair/ project. To consider replacing the hall should be the last consideration. Maybe extend the existing sideways to the left where the gully is, same roof line but split level so floor level lower as a sports hall connected to the existing by an entrance lobby. Or consider Knockbreck School as the new Community Hub, with shop, bakery, take away, cafe. Create more space by adding a sports hall structure at the back like Dunvegan Hall. Parking would not be a problem. If there were to be a new build it would have to be a greenfield site so as not to lose use of hall facilities during the development period. Parking is the key to making the existing more usable and encouraging better attendance to events.	Yes	Maybe
